

FAQ

1. What is the duration taken by the Legal Division to provide legal advice in writing?

This division takes 14 days to provide legal advice depending on the complexity of the issue raised.

2. What is the duration taken by the Legal Division to review a subsidiary legislation?

This division takes 7 days for reviewing any subsidiary legislation provided that the policy and financial issues have been finalized.

3. Does the Legal Division provide legal advice to individuals? What is the jurisdiction of this division?

This division does not provide legal advice to individuals. It only provides legal advice to the Ministry of Finance and also departments / agencies / statutory bodies under it and the jurisdiction of this division is to interpret the provisions of the law that deals only with the financial issues.